I had great experience at SIMMC as management student, major specialization in Human Resource Management. The teaching staff here is very interactive and supportive, and always there to help you throughout. Currently I'm working at Goken India Technologies as Associate Recruiter.

Goken India is a global engineering services company headquartered in Dublin, Ohio in the US with regional offices in Pune, India and Yokohama, Japan. It provides product development services for OEM's and suppliers in the automotive, aerospace and medical devices industry. I kick-started my Goken adventure as an HR Recruiter intern, delving into the art of recruitment. Now, as an Associate Recruiter, I'm continuing to curate exceptional journeys for individuals within Goken India's innovative ecosystem. 99

A college degree doesn't mark the culmination of one's journey but rather signifies that an individual is equipped for the challenges of life. Obtaining a postgraduate degree from a renowned institution like Suryadatta Group of Institutes has been a significant milestone for me. With a diverse background spanning 8 years across various industries, acquiring an MBA has undeniably enhanced my professional trajectory and holistic outlook.

My tenure at Panther Nails Technologies, a SaaS company, has been transformative, immensely enriching and pivotal juncture in my career. Being entrusted with the role of a manager under the guidance of capable and visionary leadership has allowed me to refine skills such as leadership, team building, and time management.
